

BRIDEGROOM FOUND.

STRANGE EXPERIENCES OF LOUIS C. BAUMAN, OF PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

In CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., October 1.—A dispatch from Philadelphia contains the following: Mrs. Mary Bauman, a bride of but two weeks, at 240 North Fifth street, is overcome with grief caused by the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Louis Bauman.

Miss Mary Smith, of Maryland, Md., was wedded to Louis Bauman September 11th, and the couple took up their residence at 1103 Green street, this city, and were apparently very happy until Monday morning, when the young man disappeared. Bauman, who is a compositor, left his home at the usual hour for work, and on leaving was given a letter by his wife, Mrs. Bauman, which were to be left at a jeweler's. Since then all trace of him has been lost, with the exception that a fellow-workman expressed the belief that he saw him in Washington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bauman believes that her husband is suffering from temporary insanity, probably caused by the excitement of the preceding week, and this belief is strengthened by the story of his having been confined in an asylum at Selma, Ala., his mind having been unbalanced because he was jilted by an Alabama girl, since married.

Queen of Cary, N. C., on the 12th of this month.

Governor Jones, of Alabama, has been visiting relatives in this county during the present week.

Rev. J. W. Jenkins, of Oxford, N. C., has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist church here, and will preach his first sermon on Monday.

Mr. Henry W. Williams, near here, had his tobacco pack-house destroyed by fire this week. Loss about $1,000. Insured by the Valley Mutual, of London county, Va., for $1,000.

Several old people have recently died in this vicinity, their ages running from 80 to 90 years.

This section is exceptionally healthy at present.

JOSEPHINE MORRIS ACQUITTED.

Peasby Will Not Withdraw from the Congressional Contest.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., October 1.—The fall term of the Circuit Court for York adjourned last evening. In the case of Josephine Morris, charged with the murder of her husband, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and the prisoner was at once discharged and left for home.

MR. A. C. PEASBY, Commonwealth's Attorney and Republican congressional candidate No. 2, from this district, returned yesterday from the convention. When asked if he intended to remain in the field he said he had no idea of withdrawing unless Bowden would do so, and that he would start out on a stumping tour very soon, which he promised the Norfolk county and Newport News voters he would do.

The Republicans here are very quiet on Mr. Peasby's nomination.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Henry Smith, with his sister, Miss Estelle, and Dr. Charles Coleman, left yesterday morning for Virginia Beach.

Mr. Lyon Tyler, who was so severely injured in July, and who was removed to the hospital, has been discharged and returned to his home.

Major John A. Henley and daughter, Mrs. John A. Henley, are home from a visit to the seashore.

A telegram to Dr. E. G. Booth to-day states that his wife, who is in detention, is recovering from her illness.

The Doctor left this evening for the York River line for that point.

Mr. W. G. Gay, of 409 West Marshall street, Richmond, who has been visiting relatives here, has returned home.

Dr. Tyler and Dr. Coleman, who are citizens of James City, has sold his plantation, known as "Jockey's Neck," for $4,000 to Pennsylvania parties.

CONVICT MALIE RECAPTURED.

He Made His Escape Through the Car Door and Not the Window.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

PERMANN, Va., October 1.—Daniel Malie, who made his escape from Sheriff Weston, of Lee county, on Friday morning, while he was bringing him to the city, was captured to-day on the road to Amelia Courthouse, about sixty-five miles from this city, by E. H. George, of this city, and J. B. Bolling, of James City.

Malie was completely broken down, and was sitting on the roadside. His captors recognized him by the description given of him, and he only made a feeble attempt to escape.

When he was taken home he was rendered when they drew their guns on him. Malie informed them that if he had any weapon they would kill him.

When seen at the jail to-night by the Dispatch representative, Malie made the following statement: At the time that he made his escape Weston was asleep, and McNeil, the guard, was nodding. He did not make his escape through the car window, but opened the door and stepped out from the car. He did not receive any injuries. He took at once to the woods and when the sun found that he was being followed in an easterly direction and he tried to break the handcuffs off his arm with a rock, but did not succeed. Finally he succeeded in opening the lock of the handcuffs with a goose quill. He traded the handcuffs for a pair of shoes, and he was guilty of the forgery, but not guilty of horse-stealing.

A TRIO OF DISGUSTED SPEAKERS.

Field, Cobbs, and Gaines at Lynchburg—Drug-Mills Assignment.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, Va., October 1.—General Field, T. E. Cobbs, and Major Gaines made speeches in one of the tobacco warehouses here this afternoon. There were very few Third-party people in the crowd and about 600 Democrats were present. The speakers were not applauded even by the Third-party people. At several points in Field's speech the crowd cheered for Cleveland, and Field looked very sick. All of the speakers left the stand in disgust.

DEED OF ASSIGNMENT.

The Lynchburg Drug-Mills, in pursuance of a deed of assignment, to-day filed a deed of assignment in the office of the clerk of the Corporation Court, J. W. Smith, Jr., of Richmond, and to him is conveyed in trust all rights, machinery, franchises, good will, lease, water rights, appliances, machinery, fixtures, and other property belonging to the drug-mills. The indebtedness of the mill is between $8,000 and $10,000.

POLITICAL.

A sensation has been created in Bedford county by a negro preacher, who during his services the other night told his flock to be certain to vote the Republican ticket this fall, for if that party succeeded all their old promises would be fulfilled, and he would be able to do so. This does not suit the Third party, and a great many have come out to the Democratic ticket for the past week amounting to $12,640.

KEYVILLE'S RARE EXPERIENCE.

Treated to a Political Discussion by a Female Hailing from Kansas.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

KEYVILLE, Va., October 1.—This town had a rare experience yesterday, when a female politician named Mrs. Haskell, now of Kansas, but formerly of Ohio, spoke before a large audience at the town hall. While she delivered no regular speech she had a great deal to say to a small audience at the depot here. She advocated social equality, and she said that she had been a great deal to say to a small audience at the depot here. She advocated social equality, and she said that she had been a great deal to say to a small audience at the depot here.

Some of the enthusiastic young Democrats of this city have raised and forwarded to the New York World a handsome contribution to the western-camp fund.

Mr. J. C. Smith, of Dinwiddie, has a 75-acre field of the finest-looking corn in the county.

Thirteen marriage licenses were issued during the month of September—four to white and nine to colored couples. Fifty-two deaths were admitted to record.

Nothing has yet been heard of Daniel Mabe, the Lee-county convict, who escaped from the train near this city Friday morning.

There are 50 inmates in the city almshouse—25 whites and 25 colored.

The farmers in this section are digging their peanuts. The general testimony is that the crop will be a short one.

WYSON'S COMMON-SENSE SPEECH.

A Compromise Between Mr. Dennis and His Faithless Wife—Personal.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

RANDOLPH, Va., October 1.—Mr. Joseph C. Wyson addressed 600 residents last night in Randolph Hall. For an hour and thirty minutes he held the crowd. He read the platform declaration of the party and forced bill of each party respectively and in a common-sense manner drove home to every one the superiority of the Democratic position over that of the Republicans. His treatment of the force bill was the best ever heard here. He closed with a tribute to the Democratic cause, selected Mr. Emory and Mrs. Stockdale, wife of the late Lieutenant-Governor of Texas, left for Richmond yesterday.

A number of Stafford Democrats sold the New York World $54 for the western Democratic campaign fund.

REPARATION.

In the Dennis-Johnson affair, which I telegraphed on Tuesday, the injured husband, Mr. Dennis, agreed to let the woman go if she would sign a deed conveying their land property to their four children. This she did, and Dr. Johnson and she are now in Wytheville.

Arrangements are being made to run a special train through to New York on November 1st, when it is thought, the halting on the Norfolk and Western's Ohio extension will be finished.

Mentions from Mechanicsburg.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

CHANCE CITY, Va., October 1.—Professor J. C. Harwood was teaching here in the Methodist Academy, which is the principal in the Richmond High School, and his departure was much regretted by his students and associates.

Invitations are out to be married to Mr. W. H. L. Nelson, a popular railroad official, of this place, to Miss Alice Gertrude

THE WORST OVER.

ARRIVAL OF THE LAST VESSEL WITH EMIGRANTS AT THE CAPE.

Detained by Quarantine Officers—The New System of Seawater at Port Monroe and the Reservation.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., October 1.—The steamer Scandia, of unenviable memory, arrived at the cape yesterday afternoon and anchored at lower quarantine about 5 o'clock. While she was thoroughly disinfected at New York by order of the medical officers of the Marine Hospital Service before sailing, Mr. Carter has decided to let her stay here until Monday, when she will be out five days. If nothing develops in the mean time she will be allowed to proceed to Baltimore.

The steamer Mauchon from Bremen with 1,200 steerage passengers also arrived yesterday, but fortunately with no sick-fumace on board. She was held until released from quarantine by order from Washington. This is the last vessel bound for the cape carrying emigrants, and the worst is now over.

There is a power of trouble in the Re-publican ranks over the split in the convention at Norfolk Thursday, while the Democrats are correspondingly jubilant, as it insures the election of Tyler. It is possible that a compromise may be effected and one of the candidates withdrawn, in which case the contest will be a hot one.

RESEVENTH SEVENAGE.

Lieutenant Zinn, in charge of the engineering works, is hard at work on a new system of sewerage for the port.

The new system of sewerage for the port is being constructed since the original plans were drawn, and will be adequate to all future needs of the port. The authorities want to get it in shape and commence work as soon as possible.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, of Brooklyn, one of the stockholders of the Hygeia Hotel, was here yesterday looking into the sewerage question. He is a very energetic man, and is taking the matter over with the authorities.